

Meet the Artists

Lynn and Doug Maynard have been involved with the arts for many years. Doug won his first photography award in his teens and went on to teach photography to elementary and middle school age disadvantaged children from New York City's inner city.

Lynn is a
has worked
and Smith
layouts and including Reader's Digest and Guideposts Magazine.

graduate of the Art Institute of Pittsburgh, PA and commercially for Brandagee Associates of Pittsburgh Associates of NYC. Her work includes illustrations, advertising pieces for numerous prestigious firms,

Our first venture into the crafts arena came in the late 70's when we designed and created a line of bread dough and Sculpey Christmas ornaments. Having 3 great kids, and all the commitments that go with that, we sold these through craft shows primarily in NH to reduce any minimum and eventually retired from the can still see many of Lynn's original, fun, designs reflected in many of the ornament available commercially today. Well, the grown now and we can travel more freely and have reinvented ourselves in the craft world.

travel to a craft world. You
whimsical
products
children are

Much of the inspiration for our line of wood photo mats, collages and family trees really has grown out of our family ties and the joy of having all those great family memories to look back on. We refer to our work as "Scrapbooking for your walls". We, also, have lost three of the senior members of our family to Alzheimer's; Doug's Dad and Uncle Sonny and Lynn's Mom. Going through the 7 years of battle led us to expand the Family Tree and collage portion of our product. Having the photos and names associated with people was very helpful and comforting during the many frustrating times of memory loss due to Alzheimer's.